A PARIS MURDER MYSTERY.
The arrest of Madame Steinhilf in Paris last night, following her confession yesterday that for months since the murder of her painter husband and Madame Japy, who were found strangled in the home of the artist on the morning of May 31, her attempt to find the assassins and the innumerable fantastic clues furnished the police and the newspapers were only a desperate farce to conceal the real author of the crime, whom she knew, affords Paris the biggest sensation it has had for years.
Madame Steinhilf made a confession Wednesday night. She declared that a man named Alexandre Wolf was arrested and examined by the authorities. He denied all guilt, and said he was ready to prove an alibi. Madame Steinhilf then weakened, and said it was not Wolf, but the man who did commit the crime resembled him strangely.
Then suspicion turned upon Madame Steinhilf herself, and she was locked up.
Wolf also was held, but not on a warrant.
One of the surprises of the day was the revelation of the fact that Mme.
Japy, who was murdered at the same time as Steinhilf, was not Mme.
Steinhilf's mother, as had been supposed, but her sister.
Mme. Japy was murdered at the same time as Steinhilf. Steinhilf was a portrait painter and a grand nephew of Maisonier. The assassination of the woman, however, is supposed to have been incidental to the killing of Steinhilf. He was the man it was desired to get out of the way. Steinhilf, his wife, and Mme.
Japy lived together. The wife was found bound and gagged in bed, and at first she declared that she had been thus treated by three men and a woman, all unknown to her.
Alexandre Wolf, the man accused by Mme. Steinhilf, is the son of a woman who was formerly employed in the Steinhilf family as a cook. He and his mother, whose name is Mariette, were at once arrested. It developed, however, that Mme. Steinhilf was not the first person to accuse Wolf. A mechanic named Wagner told the police a few days after the crime that Wolf had suddenly come around with a pocket full of gold. The night of the crime he was not present in his usual haunts, but the morning after when he read an account of the tragedy in a newspaper, he appeared to be greatly excited and swore that he would have vengeance on the assassins.
The crime in question was committed on the night of May 31.

GIRL ASSAILED.
Pursued for several blocks in Washington last night by a crowd of boys and girls, who, the police say, hurled stones and sticks, Nellie Miller, a pretty 15-year-old Virginia girl, last night fell as the result of a blow on the back of the head. She was struck by a stone, it is alleged, and Michael Sullivan, aged 16 years, is locked up charged with assault.
The girl is held as a witness at the house of detention.
According to the police, the girl, who is a daughter of a Virginia farmer, living in Fairfax county, went to Washington yesterday afternoon. She was walking in M street southwest about 7 o'clock, when one of several boys, who were standing at a corner, made some remark. Miss Miller retorted, whereupon the boys, it is alleged by the police, told her to move on. The girl declared her intention of doing as she pleased, and one of the boys is said to have struck her with a cane.
Believing she would be roughly treated the girl took to her heels, and the boys pursued her. As she ran several girls joined in the pursuit, yelling and throwing missiles.
After running several blocks Miss Miller suddenly stopped, and sank to the ground.
A crowd came up and the girl, it is said, pointed to Sullivan, accusing him of having thrown the stone which hit her. Sullivan was arrested.

ITALIAN MURDERED.
Under circumstances puzzling to the police, Salvatore Baldoni, a wealthy Italian grocer, was found murdered yesterday on a sidewalk near his home at Chester Hill, a suburb of Philadelphia.
His head had been crushed and, in addition, he had been shot twice. Several arrests have been made. Baldoni recently received a number of threatening letters demanding money and the police believe he was the victim of a Black Hand plot. He was returning from a visit to his mother, who resides in the Italian quarter of Philadelphia, when attacked. It is thought he was followed from the city and killed upon his refusal to accede to the demands contained in the letters.
Baldoni was summoned home by his wife, who became alarmed at the actions of two men who were watching her house. Early yesterday a neighbor of the Baldonis heard two shots and saw two men running away. He found the body of Baldoni on the sidewalk. The police later in the day arrested Thomas Ottale and Antonio Mateo, Italians, on suspicion of knowing something about the murder.

LOVERS OF MUSIC are divided into two classes—those who produce it and those who listen.
YOU can be one of those who PRODUCE MUSIC if you own a
Pianola Piano
WHY remain longer satisfied merely to hear others play the piano, when you can just as well be the player yourself.
THERE can be no question but that the pleasure of playing is vastly greater than that of listening.
IF you care at all for music, then WHY NOT BE A PIANIST?
THE PIANOLA PIANO will supply you with the skill. It will also supply you with a perfect instrument for hand-playing. In tone, in action, in appearance, the Pianola Piano is unsurpassed.
EVERY DAY you do without a Pianola Piano you are missing a pleasure which thousands of other people have spent years of their lives to gain.
PIANOLA PIANOS are genuine only when they bear the names of the Weber, the Steck, the Wheelock, or the Stuyvesant Pianos. No other so-called Player-piano contains the Pianola or is equipped with such vital improvements as these.
